ST PAUL'S

St Paul's is the Cathedral Church of the Diocese of Brechin in the Scottish Episcopal Church. Founded by Bishop Alexander Forbes and completed in 1855, it was designed by Sir George Gilbert Scott and is one of the finest Victorian buildings in Scotland.

A man of rare energy, scholarship and determination, Forbes wanted the people of Dundee to have a cathedral of light, peace and beauty.

A LIGHT FOR THE CITY

Built on the Castle Rock, the Cathedral is at the heart of Dundee and a soaring part of the city skyline. But the fabric needs care and the steps at the entrance need major work to make the Cathedral accessible to all.

Help St Paul's become a Cathedral for the 21st Century
